Re: Waste Management Directive and Deliverables

Please be advised that I have received and reviewed the deliverables that BP submitted pursuant to the Recovered Oil, Contaminated Materials, and Liquid and Solid Wastes Management Directives. The EPA and the several involved states have also reviewed those deliverables and provided me with comments and recommendations which identify various areas within them that require revision. I am directing you to revise your deliverables in accordance with the comments and recommendations of the EPA and the states. It is my understanding that you are currently in possession of those comments and recommendations. Pursuant to the Management Directives, BP has a maximum of seven (7) calendar days from today to submit the revised materials. Please consider this letter as formal notice that you must revise your deliverables and submit them to me not later than July 23, 2010.

Should you need an extension of time in which to revise the deliverables and submit them to me, please make an appropriate request to me within the designated seven (7) days. Additionally, if you have concerns about your ability to satisfy any of the above-referenced comments or recommendations requiring revision, please contact me.

Sincerely,
