Want to Avoid Spending so Much Money on Disposal ?

The Southern Waste Information eXchange, Inc. (SWIX), a non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation, can help save you money. SWIX conducts waste audits as a means of assisting industry with the identification of recyclables, minimizing waste and managing disposal costs.

What is a Waste Audit?

Billions of dollars are spent each year by industry complying with solid and hazardous waste management. As a result, industry is turning to waste auditing not only as a means of environmental compliance determination but also as a business decision making tool to control costs and to increase profits.

The SWIX Waste Audit is a process of gathering data concerning a facilities operation and solid (non-hazardous) waste generation and then comparing this information to applicable industrial waste management practices.

Elements of the SWIX Waste Audit:

- Onsite Reconnaissance of areas such as:
 - Assembly Lines
 - Receiving Area
 - Lounge
 - Stock Rooms
 - Cafeteria, Kitchen & Lunch Room
 - Offices
 - Copy, Fax, and Printing
 - Shipping
- Waste Identification and Characterization:
 - Type of Waste Stream
 - Quantity of Waste Stream
 - Quality of Waste Stream
- Review of Waste Operations
- Interviewing Facility Personnel
- Reporting Findings and Recommendations

For additional information on the SWIX Waste Audit please contact Gene Jones or Ray Moreau at:
