The National Clearinghouse for Census Data Services is a referral service for users needing specialized assistance in obtaining and utilizing statistical data and related products prepared by the Census Bureau. This assistance ranges from informational services such as seminars or workshops to technical services such as providing tape copies or performing geocoding. The organizations listed in this brochure have notified the Census Bureau that they can supply users with the services noted below.

Organizations registered with the National Clearinghouse for Census Data Services complete a checklist describing services they provide. These may include one or all of the following:

- Special services such as geocoding, site selection, market area analysis, redistricting, or other activities using census products.

Organizations registered with the Clearinghouse are not franchised, established, or supported by the Bureau of the Census. Each organization establishes its own methods of operation, cost structure, and the clientele eligible for services. The Census Bureau does not monitor or control the prices or the quality of services offered by those organizations.
