SUMMARY: This final rule implements provisions of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), related to child support enforcement program automation. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Statutory Authority

This regulation is published under the authority of several provisions of the Social Security Act (the Act), as amended by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA). Sections 454(16), 454(24), 454A and 455(a)(3)(A) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 654(16), (24), 654A, and 655(a)(3)(A)), contain requirements for automated data processing and information retrieval systems to carry out the State's IV-D State plan. Other sections, such as section 453 of the Act (42 U.S.C. 653) specify data that the system must furnish or impose safeguarding and disclosure requirements that the system must meet.

This regulation is also published under the general authority of section 1102 (42 U.S.C. 1302) of the Act which requires the Secretary to publish regulations that may be necessary for the efficient administration of the provisions for which she is responsible under the Act.

Background

Full and complete automation is pivotal to improving the performance of the nation's child support program. With a current national caseload of 20 million, caseworkers are dependent on enhanced technology and increased automation to keep up with the massive volume of information and transactions critical to future success in providing support to children.

Under PRWORA, States must build on existing automation efforts to implement the programmatic enhancements the law included for strengthening child support enforcement, including new enforcement tools and a shift in child support distribution requirements to a family-first policy. By October 1, 2000, States must have in place an automated statewide system that meets all the requirements and performs all the functions specified in PRWORA.

These requirements include:

- Functional requirements specified by the Secretary related to management of the program (454A(b)).
- Calculation of performance indicators (454A(c)).
- Information integrity and security requirements (454A(d)).
- Development of a State case registry (454A(e)).
- Expanded information comparisons and other disclosures of information (454A(f)), including to the Federal case registry of child support orders and the Federal Parent Locator Service (FPLS) and with other agencies in the State, agencies of other States and interstate information networks, as necessary and appropriate.
- Collection and distribution of support payments (454A(g)), including facilitating the State's centralized collection and disbursement unit and modifications to meet the revised distribution requirements.
- Expedited Administrative Procedures (454A(h)).

We issued proposed rules in the Federal Register on March 25, 1998, (63 FR 14402) setting forth the framework for automation that State systems must have in place by the October 1, 2000, deadline. Thirty letters from State agencies and other interested parties were received as a result. While the vast majority of these comments did not
