INTRODUCTION

The registrant has submitted Series 62 product chemistry studies in support of the Phase 4 reregistration of Bromo-chlorodimethylhydantoin (BCDMH; Halobrom). The studies are discussed below.

SERIES 62: Analysis and Certification of Product Ingredients (MRID 43219001)

62-1: Preliminary Analysis of Product Samples

The analysis of product samples is performed by an iodometric titration procedure (Method No. 100-170/132E, dated 11/89). Bromine and chlorine containing components which are present in Halobrom technical grade (TGAI) are determined by this procedure. For a discussion of the results of the analyses, see Confidential Appendix.

The information submitted satisfies the requirements of 40 CFR 158.170 for the Halobrom technical product (TGAI). No additional information is needed.

62-2: Certification of Ingredient Limits

For a discussion of the certification of the ingredient limits, see Confidential Appendix.

The information submitted satisfies the requirements of 40 CFR 158.175 for the TGAI. No additional information is needed.

62-3: Analytical Methods to Verify Certified Limits

Adequate analytical methods are submitted to verify the certified limits of the TGAI. For a discussion of the methods and the validation, see 62-1 above and the Confidential Appendix.

The information submitted satisfies the requirements of 40 CFR 158.180 for the TGAI. No additional information is needed.

SUMMARY

The product chemistry studies submitted satisfies the requirements of Series 62 (40 CFR 158.170, 158.175, and 158.180.)
