

US EPA ARCHIVE DOCUMENT

Announcing

The 33rd Annual Meeting of the New England Association of Environmental Biologists

Water's Edge Resort & Spa
Westbrook, Connecticut

March 18 - 20, 2009

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection's Bureau of Water Protection and Land Reuse is proud to host this year's NEAEB meeting. Please join us along the shores of beautiful Long Island Sound for an exciting and interesting exchange of information and ideas concerning environmental biology.

This year's committee invites you to participate by presenting an oral presentation or contributing a poster for our Poster Session. The format consists of concurrent oral presentation sessions, each approximately 30 minutes in length. A successful meeting depends on the participation of our attendees.

Similar to previous years, the 2009 NEAEB meeting will focus on information sharing and network-building through a mixture of formal presentations and informal exchanges. The meeting format will include plenary, concurrent, and poster sessions and technical workshops. A partial list of suggested topics is provided below. Additional topics, suggested speakers, and workshop ideas are welcomed.

Potential Conference Topics/Sessions

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| ➤ National Assessment Programs | ➤ Mercury in Aquatic Ecosystems |
| ➤ Nutrient Criteria | ➤ Stream Geomorphology |
| ➤ Impacts of Climate Change | ➤ Fish Community Assessments |
| ➤ Lakes, Wetlands, Estuaries | ➤ Antidegradation Approaches |
| ➤ Stream Flow Regulations | ➤ TMDL's |
| ➤ Assessment Methods | ➤ Public Beach Monitoring Programs |
| ➤ Algal Toxins | ➤ Emerging Contaminants |
| ➤ Invasive Species | ➤ Volunteer Monitoring |

For Abstract submission and further meeting information, please visit:

www.epa.gov/region1/neaeb2009

Deadline for submittals is February 20, 2009

Student papers are encouraged!

Any questions or requests for information can be addressed to:

Guy Hoffman

CT Department of Environmental Protection
79 Elm Street
Hartford, CT 06106

(860) 424-3733

guy.hoffman@ct.gov

To make room reservations or for Water's Edge Resort and Spa information, visit:

www.watersedgeresortandspa.com

