Dear Mr. Bzenas -- As a follow up to David Scotti's initial notification to you of yesterday regarding flood conditions at the Centredale Manor Site, LEA/Emhart received this morning and early afternoon photo documentation of site conditions which suggest that the flooding may have resulted in a potential release of hazardous substances at the Site through apparent erosion of site soils. LEA will be providing to you a number of photos taken by Brook Village personnel and by LEA, which you should receive by overnight mail tomorrow or Monday. Although LEA/Emhart has not determined that a reportable release has indeed occurred, or that LEA/Emhart would have any obligation to report the event under CERCLA, the NCP, or any potentially applicable state or local reporting obligations, please consider this to be a precautionary notification under those various potentially applicable authorities. As LEA/Emhart does not have jurisdiction over the site as a legal matter and cannot regulate the conduct of others at the site, we ask that EPA immediately assess the situation and take whatever steps are necessary, if any, to foreclose any potential threat to human health or the environment that it determines may exist. Please do not hesitate to contact me for further information as necessary. Thank you. Jerry Muys, Counsel for Emhart Industries, Inc.
